

ABSTRACT

A method and system is described using one or more ontologies to perform patent analysis and formulation. Using the ontologies, analysis of the claims is performed. The ontologies are such that comparison can be made between concepts in a patent claim sense of relative breadth.